UNDERSTANDING INTERVENTIONS & PREVENTIONS

An intervention is an orchestrated attempt by one, or often, many people (usually Family and friends) to get someone to seek professional help with an addiction or some kind of traumatic event or crisis. The term intervention is most often used when the traumatic event involves addiction to alcohol, drugs, suicidal ideations or other items.

A prevention is a program of activities directed at improving general well-being and often involving specific protection for selected purposes or diseases, such as immunization; while primary prevention is the avoidance of the onset of disease by behavior modification (e.g. limiting alcohol intake) or treatment (e.g. routing childhood immunization).

Problems involving military, administrative or criminal matters and complaints against military personnel are referred to the appropriate agency.

Informative briefings may be schedule through ACS.

Legal assistance cannot:

Represent a client in civilian courts.

Assist with an individual's outside commercial ventures.

Draft complicated trust agreements or conduct in-depth estate planning.

Draft any pleadings or other documents that will be presented to the court.

Important Legal Information:

Last Will and Testament

The Fort Eustis Legal Assistance Office provides assistance in preparing Wills for Soldiers and their spouses free of charge. It is advantageous for everyone to have a Will. It is the only "legal" way to designate who will get an individual's property after his or her death. This cannot be accomplished with a Power of Attorney. A Will should state who will be person to settle the estate (the executor or executrix) and a guardian should be named for surviving children.

Power of Attorney

A Power of Attorney is a document which allows another person to act as one's agent. A General Power of Attorney lets a designated person do anything one might do his or herself, such as buy a car, or cash a paycheck. A Special Power of Attorney gives a designated person limited power to do one or more specific things. For example, it may give someone the authority to register a car for the owner in his or her absence. The Legal Assistance Office can help prepare a Power of Attorney and assist individuals in determining which one is actually needed. Powers of Attorney should always include an expiration date (which will be no longer than one year from the date of signing, and preferably for the shortest period of time for which it may be needed). A Limited Power of Attorney should be used whenever possible. A Power of Attorney expires upon the death of the individual authorizing it or the death of the person to whom it is designate.

Divorce and Separation

In Virginia, a divorce may be obtained when the parties have lived apart, and without cohabitation for a period of one (1) year or more. This separation does not require a written property settlement agreement. However, when the parties have entered into a property settlement agreement, and there are no minor children, a divorce may be obtained on application if and when the husband and wife have lived apart, and without cohabitation or interruption for six (6) months. A written property settlement agreement is not valid in Virginia unless both parties have signed it and their signatures have been notarized.

Leases

Whenever property is rented, there should always be a written lease. A lease allows a person to know, in writing, when their rent is due, when their term expires, where their security deposit is kept and so on. Military personnel should request that a military clause be included in their lease. This allows the lease to be broken in the event the Soldier and his/her Family are reassigned to another institution. Any other promises by the landlord or tenant should be put in writing as well, in order for them to be binding.

Taxes

Military personnel and their Family members are liable for federal taxes. In addition, they are also liable for state income taxes in the state where they legally reside. The legal residence of Soldier is the place where he or she intends to reside indefinitely. Such a place is called a "legal residence" or "domicile". Domicile is established by ones' actions, such as registering vote in a particular state or receiving "in-state" tuition from a college or university. No one is ever without a legal residence and no one may have two such residences at the same time. Whenever a new "legal residence" is established, the old one expires. Military personnel who reside in a state where there is no income tax are exempt from paying state taxes. Some states make military personnel fully liable for income taxes, regardless of where they are stationed. Other states may require Family members, earning income in the state which their sponsor is assigned, to file an additional state income tax return there. Soldier may check their withholding statement (W-4 Form) or block 25 on their LES to see whether they are being taxed by their legal state of residence. A Legal assistance officer is available to answer questions regarding liability of state income taxes, where to vote and where and when "in-state" tuition can be claimed.

Door-to-Door Sales

A door-to-door sale is one that takes place anywhere other than the store or place of business of the seller. When a product is purchased from a door-to-door salesperson, it must be stated, in writing, that the buyer has three (3) business days in which to change their mind about the purchase. If the buyer decides to cancel the contract, he or she must do so in writing, and send a copy of the cancellation (also the consumer needs to keep a copy of the cancellation request). Door-to-door sales are prohibited on Fort Eustis. Anyone coming in contact with a door-to-door salesperson on post; should notify the Provost Marshall's Office.

Important Documents and Information for Spouses

It is very important for military spouses to have certain documents in their possession. If it becomes necessary to take full responsibility for the Family for any reason, they will be able to do so without much trouble. The sponsor should have most of the information. The hours spent going over this information saves time later on. It is advised that these documents be maintained in a place where they are accessible at all times. Military spouses should possess the following:

Marriage Certificate

Birth Certificate for all Family members

Shot Records (up-to-date) of all Family members, including pets

Citizenship papers, if any

Adoption Papers, if any

Passports, if any

Armed Forces Identification Cards for all Family Members (10 years old or older)

Sponsor's Social Security Number

All government and civilian insurance policies or a list of companies, policy numbers, types of insurance, local and out-of-town addresses and telephone numbers of the companies, whenever possible.

Sponsor's last LES

Power of Attorney (several copies)

Copies of both husband's and wife's Wills

Nine copies of sponsor's TDY to PCS orders

Current addresses and telephone numbers of all immediate Family members

Planning for your Sponsor's Absence

To prepare a Family for separation, certain precautions must be taken. The following are some suggestion:

Know the various financial obligations the Family has and budget accordingly. Keep a calendar of the upcoming year, under each month, list what must be done. ACS has financial counselors to assist with budget planning.

Know how you are going to receive financial support: Do you have an allotment? Does your sponsor have direct deposit? Can you draw on that account? Is your sponsor's paycheck sent to the unit? If so, do you have a Power of Attorney?

Know that security precautions you should take. The Fort Eustis Military Police have many suggestions on crime prevention, as does the Newport News City Police Department.

Military Health Care in Tidewater

Tidewater Military Health System enhanced Multi-Service Market

The Tidewater Military Health System (MHS) enhanced Multi-Service Market (eMSM) located in Hampton Roads, Virginia is comprised of Naval Medical Center Portsmouth (NMCP), United States Air Force (USAF) Hospital Langley, and McDonald Army Health Center (MCAHC), Fort Eustis. The Tidewater MHS provides inpatient and outpatient primary, specialty, surgical subspecialty, intensive care, emergency, dental, and health support services to TRICARE eligible beneficiaries. The five year vision of the Tidewater MHS is to care for a larger market share of our eligible population through a fully integrated, value-driven healthcare system that is practicing state-of-the-art medicine while maintaining deployment readiness of our military and sustaining the currency of our medical staff.

The Tidewater market's key opportunities center on primary care, specialty care, inpatient, surgical, and pharmacy services. The focus of this five year performance plan will be the integration and standardization of healthcare services, promoting the delivery of efficient, high value healthcare to the market.

Currently, Prime enrollment numbers for the market are growing. Data indicates that those enrolled in the Tidewater market use emergency and urgent care services at rates which are higher than expected for an optimized medical home. Non-standardized business practices result in network specialty referrals, and inpatient and surgical care in the network despite capacity in the direct care system. Also, network cost for pharmaceuticals is growing.

The initiatives in this performance plan will result in market efficiencies and decreased purchase care costs. The market will meet or exceed enrollment targets while implementing services and processes to assist in patient management that will lead to a reduction in unnecessary healthcare utilization. Fully integrated business practices and resource sharing will drive the recapture of purchased inpatient and surgical care.
